Important Notes:

- All the announcements about the course and class information, class materials and assignments will be posted on the Blackboard. Please make sure to check the Blackboard regularly.
 - Make-up quizzes or exams should be taken no later than two weeks of the designated day and only half of the credit will be accepted.
 - Chinese Characters(한자): 320L curriculum will include 6 hours of learning and practicing basic Chinese Characters used in Korean Vocabulary, which will help students enhance their knowledge and skills in reading intermediate-advanced level of Korean texts.
 - Quizzes (퀴즈) will be given in Wednesday classes. Each quiz will mainly test the vocabulary and/or Chinese characters covered in the previous week classes.
 - Midterm Written Exam will be given in the 8th week and will cover 10 % of the final grade.
 - Final Exams will compose of a Listening test and a Written exam. Listening Final Exam will be given on the final class day and Written Final Exam will be given at the designated time and location by the university during the official final exam period. The Listening Test and the Final Written Exam will respectively cover 10% and 20% of the final grade.
 - Oral Final Presentation will be given in the final week covering 12 % of the final grade. Then content and preparation for the oral presentation will be discussed in the class.
 - Homework will be given six times mostly on a biweekly basis. Content of each homework is the exercise and a writing composition on a topic related with each lesson. The details of the Homework content will be distributed in a separate paper in the class. Each homework is due on every other Monday as described in the table on the next page of this syllabus. A reminder will be posted on the Blackboard and emailed by the previous Thursday. Handwrite or type your homework in separate paper(s) and submit it to me by the due date. Don't submit your Textbook. If you cannot come to the Monday class, you can either submit it via e-mail to me or leave it in the drop box on the door of my office. Homework will be checked and returned to you on the next Friday class. It will be graded on the completion base. Late homework will be accepted by two weeks later than the due date and will get only half of its full credit.
 - Attendance is important since this is a language course. First three absences will be excused and each absence thereafter will subtract 0.5 point. Absence due to medical emergency can be excused with an official proof such as doctor's notice, etc.
 - Class Participation reflects how well you are prepared for the class and how cooperative you are in class activities.
- * Scholastic Dishonesty: Any act that breaches standards of academic integrity is considered as 'scholastic dishonesty' and will be punished according to the University policies. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but not limited to, cheating, unauthorized collaboration, and copying of others' works.
- * Any student with a documented disability (physical or cognitive) who requires academic accommodations should contact the Services for Students with Disabilities at 471-6259 (voice) or 1-866-329-3986 (Video Phone) as soon as possible to request an official letter outlining authorized accommodations.
