

INTER-AMERICAN LITERARY EXCHANGES

- Beebee, Thomas O. "Triptychs of Solipsism: The Decadent Plantation in Lins do Rego's Fogo Morto and Faulkner's The Sound and the Fury." 23 (1999): 63-88.
- Cohn, Deborah. "The Case of the Fabricated Facts: Historical Reconstruction in Faulkner's Absalom, Absalom! and Vargas Llosa's Historia de Mayta." 21 (1997): 25-48.
- Fitz, Earl E. "The Influence of Machado de Assis on John Barth's The Floating Opera." 10 (1986): 56-67.
- Flory, Jen. "The Effective Appropriation of History: Carmen Boullosa's Son vacas, somos puercos and Charles Johnson's Middle Passage." 26 (2002): 121-38.
- Moore, Pamela L. "Testing the Terms: 'Woman' in The House of Spirits and One Hundred Years of Solitude." 18 (1994): 90-100.
- Pollard, Scott. "Artists, Aesthetics, and Family Politics in Donoso's El obsceno pájaro de la noche and James's The Golden Bowl." 23 (1999): 40-62.
- Preble-Niemi, Oralia. "Magical Realism and the Great Goddess in Two Novels by Alejo Carpentier and Alice Walker." 16 (1992): 101-14.
- Ween, Lori. "Family Sagas of the Americas: Los Sangurimas and A Thousand Acres." 20 (1996): 111-25.