

Earth Day 2008 Was a Huge Success!

On April 22, 2008, the Campus Environmental Center and many members of the UT Sustainability Network celebrated Earth Day 2008 with activities on the West Mall, McCombs School Patio, the FAC Atrium and the East Mall.

Opening Minds To a World of Options!

The CEC and the UT Sustainability Network members are saving energy and water, reducing UT's carbon footprint, and showing individuals how to shrink their own carbon footprint.

From natural gas vehicles, to electric bicycles, from locally grown produce to sustainable art, from recycling to green building—

We're showing how anyone can go green!

Together, We're Making Every Day an Earth Day!

Interest in Conservation and Sustainability is Spreading on Campus

Close to 30 exhibitors on the East Mall exhibited ways to protect the Earth--locally and globally. Business students held a Green Business Fair on the McCombs Plaza

Earth Day attendees, cruised the Alternative Fuel Vehicle exhibit on Speedway, celebrated the 5th Anniversary of the CED with free cake and SweetLeaf Tea, and won prizes for recycling.
