Faculty Organization Bylaws
College of Pharmacy
The University of Texas at Austin

I. The Faculty

A. Membership of the Faculty

The membership of the University Faculty is defined by University of Texas System policy.

B. Voting Membership

Voting faculty for the purposes of University of Texas faculty governance shall be determined by University policy.

For issues related to faculty governance within the College of Pharmacy (approved by the College of Pharmacy Faculty, June 2007):

All College of Pharmacy faculty who have full voting privileges at the University level as members of the General Faculty will have full voting privileges on College governance matters as well.

1. Specifically, voting Members of the College of Pharmacy shall consist of:
   a. all tenure-track professors, associate professors, and assistant professors with a faculty appointment in the college of 50% or greater;
   b. all distinguished senior lecturers, senior lecturers, lecturers, and all instructors with a faculty appointment in the college who have had four or more semesters of service at 50% appointment or greater at any rank at the University of Texas at Austin;
   c. all clinical professors, clinical associate professors, and clinical assistant professors with a faculty appointment in the college of 50% or greater;
   d. all assistant and associate deans with a faculty appointment at 50% appointment or greater at any rank in the college;
   e. and all faculty with a fully executed Phased Retirement Contract regardless of rank or percent faculty appointment in the college.

2. Additional Considerations:
   a. For all faculty members in the aforementioned ranks with an appointment of less than 50%, the division head will group such faculty within his/her division to represent full (1.0) appointments and designate one member of each group to cast the single vote for that group.
   b. A division head or an assistant/associate dean for a cooperative program may feel that a particular faculty member in his/her division/program plays such a significant role in teaching, research, or service, or the overall functioning of the division/program that he/she should have full voting privileges. The division head or assistant/associate dean would then petition the dean to grant full voting privileges to that faculty member.

c. All research assistant professors, research associate professors, and research professors with a faculty appointment in the college will not be granted voting privileges unless the division head (in consultation with the Dean) feels that a particular research faculty member in his/her division plays such a significant role in teaching, research, or service, or the overall functioning of the division, that he/she should have voting privileges. The division head would then formally petition the dean to grant either full or partial voting privileges to that person.

II. Faculty Meetings

A. Frequency of Faculty Meetings

At least one regular meeting of the Faculty shall be held in the Fall semester, and at least one regular meeting shall be held in the Spring semester.

Additional meetings of the Faculty may be called by the Dean of the College, by the Executive Committee, or by petition of ten voting members of the Faculty.

B. Voting Procedures

A quorum shall consist of greater than 50% of the voting membership of the faculty. For issues requiring a full faculty vote, the vote will typically be taken at a called faculty meeting, unless it is moved and approved by a majority that the issue be postponed for an electronic vote (to be conducted by the Secretary with confidentiality). The Dean may also call for an electronic vote (without objection) for time-sensitive items of lesser importance. For a motion requiring a majority faculty approval, "majority" means more than half of the votes cast in the affirmative on the motion (excluding abstentions). For a motion requiring a "two-thirds majority" approval means two-thirds or more of the votes cast in the affirmative on the motion (excluding abstentions). Proxy votes are not allowed, regardless of the voting mechanism. On issues in which the faculty are advisory to the dean, the dean may call for a faculty vote in order to obtain the perspective of the faculty. Such votes are advisory and nonbinding.

C. Presiding Officer

The Dean shall be the presiding officer. In his/her absence or inability to preside, this function shall be exercised by an Associate Dean, or Assistant Dean, or faculty member designated by the Dean.
D. Rules

Unless otherwise specified in these Bylaws, Robert's Rules of Order, in its current edition, shall prevail in all of the faculty meetings.

E. Parliamentarian

A parliamentarian will be nominated and elected annually by the Faculty at the first Faculty meeting of the fall semester. The parliamentarian shall rule on all questions of parliamentary procedure.

III. Secretary of the Faculty

The Secretary of the Faculty shall be nominated and elected by the Faculty to serve a two-year term. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to act as recorder of faculty deliberations, and publish the official minutes of faculty meetings.

Preceding the regular Fall Faculty meeting, the Secretary shall make available for the faculty a list of all Faculty members, indicating their rank and eligibility to vote (including aggregated votes), and will make available a copy of these Bylaws to all Faculty. The Secretary shall record the complete language of all approved changes to these Bylaws in the minutes of the faculty meetings and shall incorporate such revisions into the official version of the College Bylaws.

IV. Committees

A. Composition and Duties of Standing Committees of the College

The Dean’s Cabinet will make recommendations to the faculty regarding any changes to the College’s Standing Committees (additions, deletions, merging) and the specified number of members and committee constituency. The formation, deletion, or merging to form a new Standing Committee requires a change in the Bylaws.

The Dean’s Cabinet with input from the faculty will appoint the membership on College Standing Committees. Individuals will be appointed to Standing Committees for two year renewable terms, with the exception that students will be appointed for one year renewable terms. Chairs of Standing Committees will be named by the Dean; ex officio members can serve as Chairs. Ex officio members are voting members, unless otherwise specified.

Charges to the Standing Committees will be provided by the Dean at the beginning of the two-year cycle, with additional charges made as needed during the biennium.

Standing Committees shall be as follows:
1. Academic Performance Committee [Requires divisional representation]

Administrative Faculty Liaison(s) \textit{[ex officio]}: Sr. Assoc. Dean Academic Affairs; Asst. Dean Exp Prog & Prof Affairs, Director of Assessment.

Responsibility: Advisory to the faculty.

Membership and Voting:

- Division representation is defined as one member and one alternate member per division/cooperative program. If the member is not present at a meeting, only then may the alternate member cast a vote on any matter.

- The administrative faculty liaisons are voting members.

- Student representation is defined as one appointed member and one alternate member for each of the P1, P2 and P3 classes. The most senior student member attending the meeting shall cast the single vote of the students.

- The recent UTCOP graduate and the practitioner representatives are full voting members.

Voting Procedures:

- “Substantive curricular changes” are defined as any changes involving addition/deletion of courses, sequence of courses, or numbers of credit hours associated with required Pharm.D. curriculum courses, the pre-pharmacy course requirements, or in the requirements for graduation in the Doctor of Pharmacy degree program (e.g., curricular programmatic requirements not associated with specific courses).

- Written proposals for substantive curricular changes must be distributed to the Faculty at least 5 working days prior to the Curriculum Committee meeting for their review and comment through their divisional representatives.

- Any substantive curricular change approved by the Curriculum Committee will be submitted to the faculty for approval on a no-protest basis. The curricular change will be considered approved unless, within 10 working days, protests have been received by the chair of the committee from at least 10 voting members of the Faculty or >50% of the voting faculty from a single division or Cooperative Program campus. If sufficient protests are received, the item will be presented to the Faculty at the next general faculty meeting for discussion. If desired, a motion to reconsider can be made at that time and, if approved, the matter referred back to the curriculum committee for reconsideration.

- The Committee has autonomy in all other matters (based on divisional representation and input), such as approving elective course syllabi, review of courses, changes in course content for existing courses, etc.).

8. Departmental Review on Human Research Committee [Representation from divisions conducting human research; graduate student representation]

- Review and critique any investigation protocols developed within the college that involve the use of humans in experiments. Recommendations are forwarded to the University Institutional Review Board. At least three members of this committee should be involved in research activities using human subjects.

- Review proposed graduate programs and modifications to existing programs and make recommendations to the full GSC regarding these programs.
- Develop processes and procedures to continually assess the quality of our graduate programs and make recommendations to the full GSC for program improvements.
Administrative Liaison(s) \textit{ex officio}: Assoc. Dean Grad Studies & Research; Graduate Coordinator

Responsibility: Advisory to the GSC

\textbf{Ad hoc Committees and Taskforces}

- Ad hoc committees and taskforces shall be appointed by the Dean in consultation with the Dean’s Cabinet as the occasion arises. The composition and charge to the ad hoc committee or taskforce shall be in writing. Each such group shall exist until the purpose for which it was formed has been fulfilled, or for twelve months, or until it is dissolved by the Dean, whichever comes first.

\textbf{V. Amendments}

Periodic review of College Bylaws shall occur as needed, but at least once every six years in conjunction with the Colleges’ accreditation self-study.

Any voting member of the Faculty may, at any regular or special meeting, propose amendments to the Bylaws. Action on any such proposal shall be deferred until the next scheduled meeting, to be held not less than ten days subsequent to the distribution of the text of the proposed amendments. A proposed amendment may also be acted upon if a written proposal has been distributed to the Faculty not less than ten days prior to the next meeting. Approval of an amendment shall be by a two-thirds affirmative vote of all members present and voting. Votes for bylaw amendments can also be conducted by the Faculty secretary by electronic methods.

\textbf{VI. Bylaw Interpretation}

Where ambiguity or difference of opinion may exist in interpretation of the Bylaws, the Dean’s Cabinet will meet to advise the Dean.

\textbf{University Policy}

Nothing in the College of Pharmacy bylaws are intended to conflict with policies established by The University of Texas at Austin or the University of Texas System. If a potential conflict exists, resolution of the potential conflict will be sought from the Office of the Provost.
