

Texas Law Review

Volume 84, Number 1, November 2005

ARTICLES

- The Limits of Lawyering: Legal Opinions in Structured Finance
Steven L. Schwarcz 1
- Comment—Can Lawyers Wear Blinders?
Gatekeepers and Third-Party Opinions
John C. Coffee, Jr. 59
- Comment—The Limits of Legal Analysis: Using Externalities to Explain Legal Opinions in Structured Finance
Jonathan Macey 75
- Comment—Earnings Management as a Professional Responsibility Problem
William H. Simon 83
- Reply—We Are All Saying Much the Same Thing:
A Rejoinder to the Comments of Professors Coffee,
Macey, and Simon
Steven L. Schwarcz 93
- A Theory of Punitive Damages
Benjamin C. Zipursky 105

BOOK REVIEW ESSAY

- A Thoroughly Modern Theory of Restitution
Mark P. Gergen
- reviewing*
THE LAW AND ETHICS OF RESTITUTION 173

NOTES

- Contingent Worker Protection from Client Company
Discrimination: Statutory Coverage, Gaps, and the Role of the Common Law
Jason E. Pirruccello 191
- Inequitable Estoppel: Arbitrating with Nonsignatory
Defendants Under Grigson v. Creative Artists
Frank Z. LaForge 225

