

KEY AND ELECTRONIC NURSING JOURNALS: CHARACTERISTICS AND DATABASE COVERAGE, July 2007 edition

Prepared by Margaret (Peg) Allen, MLS-AHIP

The purpose of this list is to assist those assessing nursing journal titles for potential subscription and publishing opportunities. Nursing and a small number of interdisciplinary journals were selected for this chart if they qualified per at least one of the following conditions:

- Appeared in the Swanson/ McCloskey articles noted in the references.
- On the final Brandon-Hill nursing list published in 2002 (CINAHL Core Nursing subset)
- On the 1997 Suggested List of Periodicals for Nurses for the Canadian Health Science Library. Ottawa: Canadian Nursing Association.
- Noted in "Nursing Research Journals: An Annotated Guide" by Sharon C. Murphy, RN, MLS.
- Highly cited interdisciplinary/allied health titles from NAHRS Task Force on Mapping the Nursing Literature (see mapping resources at <http://nahrs.library.kent.edu/activity/>)
- Selected for inclusion in Index Medicus (no longer published; still a MEDLINE subset).
- Available electronically, either free via the world-wide-web or for a fee via full-text databases & subscriptions (does not apply if a state or provincial nursing journal; newsletters generally not included)

Journals are listed under the current title, with data merged from the previous title. Discontinued titles are not included unless still available online as part of a new title or discontinued 2005 or later. Data is based on the most current information available. Starting dates are indicated for titles starting in 2000 or later, as well as for any changes since the 2001 list. Errors will be corrected and new titles added as this chart is updated; journal editors and database producers are encouraged to contact the author as listed at the end of this introduction.

This 2007 edition is based on 2004 – 2006 journals content. In a few cases, indexing for these years is incomplete. Please write for an updated copy and permission before copying.

Key to interpretation:

1. PR (Peer Review) is based on the CINAHL® database designation and other published information. PR indicates that the title is peer-reviewed, but the publisher did not indicate the type of peer review when responding to a CINAHL Information Systems query. BP= Blind peer-review. DP = Double-blind. EB = Editorial Board review. XP = Expert Peer Review
2. Research percentages are derived from CINAHL® database searches, for the publication years 2003 – 2006. The following CINAHL Publication Types are not included in the calculations: Brief items, Editorials, Letters, and Overall. Calculations are updated for each edition.
3. Lists
  - B - Brandon List for nursing (B* = First choice)
  - C - Canadian Nursing Association (C* = Core; C = Recommended)
  - M - Nursing Research Journals reviewed by Sharon C. Murphy, RN
4. Included in (currently listed/indexed):
  - B – British Nursing Index
  - C - CINAHL – first year indexed; second date for CINAHL Plus, if different
  - EM - EMCARE/Mosby's Nursing Index (same database, different interfaces)
  - M - MEDLINE; IM Index Medicus.
  - P - Psychological Abstracts/PsycINFO
  - WS - Social Science Citation Index or Science Citation Index (WS denotes new titles announced in September 2006 – JCR data not available until first 3 years are indexed)
5. Points used for ranking

Content – Research, EBN or CEU – maximum 4 points	Reputation – maximum 2 points	Cites – maximum 4
4 More than 80% research or 90+ articles	1 B* or C*	4 8+ points; in "Top 80"
3 60-79% research or 70- 89 articles	1 Brandon-Hill Nursing	3 5-7 points;
2 40-59% research or 50- 69articles	1 CNA	2 3-4 points
1 20-39% research or 20-49 articles	1 Murphy or other selection	1 1-2 points
2 20 or more SYR/EBP articles (Systematic Review and Translation: Practice guidelines, Critical paths, Protocols, Standards)		Based on data from the NAHRS Task Force on Mapping the Nursing Literature*
1 10 – 19 EBP articles		2 points for zone 1 titles, 1 for zone 2

Background: Original inspiration for the key journals project came from a series of articles reporting on the publishing practices of nursing journals. The authors wanted to help nurse authors choose appropriate journals and to increase the quality of manuscripts submitted for publication. The first in their series reported the results of a survey of 65 U.S. and foreign nursing journals (McCloskey, 1977). The second survey of 100 publications included U.S. nursing and health care journals but only two foreign nursing journals (McCloskey & Swanson, 1982). The third survey of 139 journals included U.S. and foreign nursing journals and U.S. health care journals (Swanson & McCloskey, 1986). The last survey (1991) was limited to U.S. nursing journals because of the increasing numbers and the difficulty in obtaining information on health care and foreign journals. The key journals list was originally prepared as a supplement to MLA CE classes related to nursing information resources.

Acknowledgements: Additional Canadian journals recommended by Brenda Shestowsky, formerly Manager, Information Services and Systems, Canadian Nurses Association. Additional UK titles were recommended by Catherine Ebenezer, Librarian South London and Maudsley NHS Trust. Thanks to Shannon Clever, Parkview Hospital, Fort Wayne, Indiana for sharing web addresses of her journals via the MEDLIB-L listserv, which helped with compiling the full-text column, and to Sharon Murphy, RN, MLS, who suggested new titles to review. Finally, thanks to June Levy, MLS, Managing Director and Diane Pravikoff, RN, Ph.D., Director of Research, Cinahl Information Systems for their continuing support and encouragement.
