Faculty by Division

The College of Pharmacy functions as a single department within The University of Texas at Austin with the Dean serving as chairman. However, because of the diversity of interests within the faculty, the college is subdivided into divisions. The purpose of these divisions is to allow faculty members having similar interests to discuss and recommend actions or activities that are of special interest to them. These recommendations will be made either to the division heads, the Dean, committees of the college, or to the faculty, whichever is appropriate.
