I. Course Description

This course will survey theories regarding the causation of domestic violence, the history of the contemporary battered women's movement, international, national, state, and local policy issues, prevention and intervention practice models, as well as administrative, community practice, and research issues in the field.

Specific topics to be addressed include: the bio-psycho-social needs of battered women, legal and criminal justice issues, types of domestic violence including physical, emotional, sexual, economic, and the use of children as weapons, batterers treatment program, school-based prevention programs targeting children and teens, and services to special populations including women of color, lesbians and gays, persons with disabilities, older women and women who are recent immigrants.

As social workers and other human service workers may encounter families experiencing domestic violence in a variety of settings, this course provides an overview of contemporary issues in domestic violence, designed to empower future social work practitioners with the conceptual frameworks and knowledge base necessary for effective intervention.

II. Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, student will be able to:

- Use a variety of theoretical perspectives to understand domestic violence and its relationship to other forms of violence against women (harassment, stalking, sexual assault, homicide) and family violence (child, elder, sibling abuse)
- Understand the psychological, social, physical, legal, and financial consequences of domestic violence on battered women, their children, batterers, the community, and society as a whole.
- Identify relevant social policies and its intended and unintended consequences for battered women and their families.
- Assess and identify appropriate individual, group, family, agency, community and societal interventions.
- Identify the complex social service delivery system that has developed around services for families that are experiencing domestic violence.
- Understand the different issues and service delivery strategies with regards to providing services to battered women of color, lesbian and gays, older women, and women with disabilities.
- Identify the ethical dilemma social workers and other health and human service professionals face when addressing the needs of families experience domestic violence. In particular, the issues of social control, self-determination, and confidentiality will be examined.

III. Teaching Methods

The primary teaching approach in this course will be collaborative learning. Material in the course will be presented through a variety of teaching strategies. For example, case studies, discussions, videos, small group work, field trips, new articles, examinations, readings, and lectures will be considered. Videos will be used as tools for addressing key concepts in the course. The goal is to stimulate critical thinking, intellectual creativity, and sharing of knowledge and skills with and through the class. Students will be responsible for material presented through all these activities. Assigned readings are for the week in which they are listed and students should complete the readings prior to class and be prepared to discuss them. However, the instructor may not review all assigned readings in class.

IV. Required and Recommended Readings

Students will be assigned a set of required readings for this course. Copies of the articles and book chapters are available at the Learning Resource Center at the School of Social Work. See the complete list under Required Reading List.

- Quindlen, A. (1999). Black and Blue. Mass Market Media.
This text can be purchased at any bookstore such as Borders, Barnes and Noble, or Amazon.com.
- Davies, J. M. and E. Lyon (1998). Safety planning with battered women: Complex lives/difficult choices. Thousand Oaks, Sage Publications. Chapters 5-7.

The following two texts are high recommended:

- Gondolf, E. (1998). Assessing woman battering in mental health services. Thousand Oaks, CA: Sage.
- Roberts, A. (1996). (Ed.) Helping battered women and their families: Intervention strategies and treatment programs (2nd ed.) New York: Springer Publishing Company.

V. Course Requirements

Course requirements consist of six graded assignments; an individualized safety plan, two reaction papers to videos and field trips, assigned readings and presentation, posting questions and thoughts to assigned readings, and class participation. See Section of Description of Assignments for specific details.

Assignment 1	Safety Plan Paper	20 points
Assignment 2	Court Reaction Paper	20 points
Assignment 3	Assigned Readings & Presentation	20 points
Assignment 4	Class Project or Small Group Projects	40 points
Total Points		100 points

VI. Grading Scale

- A = 90 – 100 points
- B = 80 – 89.9 points
- C = 70 – 79.9 points
- F = < 70 points

VII. Class Policies

1. Students are expected to attend ALL class meetings, to read ALL the assigned readings, and to participate in class discussions.
2. There are no "excused" absences. Students missing more than one (1) Saturday class sessions will receive a 10% reduction in their overall course grade. Students missing two (2) or more class sessions may receive an "F" for the course. The instructor may use her discretion. Students should not register for this class if he/she has a conflict with the schedule, however emergencies are understandable. As soon as you know that you will not be attending class because of an emergency, please let me know by email. Coming to class late or leave class early may count as an absence. Students missing one or more class sessions will be required to complete an additional assignment. See section on additional assignment for guidelines and see me for approval.
3. Assignments are to be submitted according to the schedule. All late assignments will receive a five (5) percent penalty per day (weekend days will be included). All assignments are due at the beginning of the class period—assignments turned in after the beginning of class will be considered late.
4. The Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) is the style manual to be used for all assignments. Incorrect APA style will result a deduction of points on assignments.
5. Appropriate referencing is required. Failure to use quotation marks for direct quotes or citation for indirect quotations and/or others ideas may result in a "0" for the paper and/or an "F" for the course.
6. All papers are to be word-processed or typewritten, double-spaced, 10 – 12 point font, and "normal" margins.
7. University policies governing scholastic dishonesty, as presented in the General Information Bulletin and the brochure prepared by Student for Academic Integrity apply in this course. Scholastic dishonesty may result in a report to the Graduate Program Director, the Dean of the School of Social Work, and/or the Dean of the Graduate School. Students may receive an "F" for the course and other sanctions in accordance with University policies.
8. Any modifications, amendments, or changes to the syllabus and or assignments are the discretion of the instructor. Changes will be announced in class. It is the responsibility of the student to inquiry about any changes that might have been made in his/her absence.

9. Issue of Safety--As part of professional social work education, student may have assignments that involve working in agency settings and/or the community. As such, these assignments may present some risks. Sound choices and caution may lower risks inherent to the profession. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and adhere to policies and practices related to agency and/or community safety. Students should also notify instructors regarding any safety concerns.

Issue of Confidentiality and Personal Disclosure

Personal disclosure is not an expectation or a requirement of this course. However, it might be appropriate for students to talk about personal information during class as it relates to our learning about a particular topic. Students are expected to adhere to all professional standards of confidentiality during the semester.

VIII. Students with Special Learning Needs and Disabilities

Please let me know if you have a learning and/or another disability and if you require special accommodations. I am interested in this class being a productive learning experience for everybody.

The University of Texas at Austin provides, upon request, appropriate academic accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Any student with a documented disability (physical or cognitive) who requires academic accommodations should contact the Services for Students with Disabilities area of the Office of the Dean of Students at 471-6259 (voice) or 471-4641 (TTY for users who are deaf or hard of hearing) as soon as possible to request an official letter outlining authorized accommodations.

IX. Assignment Descriptions

Assignment # 1 Developing A Safety Plan

Each student is expected to develop a safety plan for the main character in the assigned book, Black and Blue by Anna Quindlen. Students will be encouraged to reflect upon their own feelings and reactions in developing the safety plan.

This assignment is intended to familiarize students with the experience of and issues related to developing safety plans with battered women. A safety plan is viewed as an outcome of a mutual process between clients and their social work advocates. In this exercise, the safety plan is defined by the battered woman and may not always involve her leaving her violent relationship. The use of women's narratives assists students in understanding battered women's stories and more closely evaluating the barriers that battered women face. This assignment challenges the myth that leaving an abusive relationship ensures a woman's safety by examining circumstances where leaving actually increases her risk of harm. In situations where battered women define leaving as a primary goal of their safety plans, leaving will be viewed as a process rather than a one-time event. The students are reminded that a woman may identify goals in her safety plan that do not involve leaving her abusive relationship. Students are asked to use an outline for completing the assignment. The outline has been developed for Fran the main character in Black and Blue, but is intended to apply to whomever the student has chosen for the safety planning assignment.

Learning Objectives

- To engage in creative problem solving and seek innovative solutions to increase safety for women and children living in domestic violence.
- To be able to conduct an analysis of the risks to a women's safety through a careful assessment process.

- To be able to develop a safety plan that addresses the woman's unique risk factors, strengths and respects their individual choices and values.
- To better understand safety planning as a client-focused process that evolves over time with changes in the woman's goals and situation.

Assignment Readings

Davies, J. M. and E. Lyon (1998). Safety planning with battered women: Complex lives/ difficult choices. Thousand Oaks, Sage Publications. Chapters 5-7.

Quindlen, A. (1999). Black and Blue. Mass Market Media.

Outline for Safety Planning Assignment

- I. Brief description of situation (20 points):
  - Describe the history of violence in Fran's marriage (i.e. types, severity, duration of the abuse).
  - Describe the circumstances under which the violence tends to occur.
  - Describe Fran's goals in terms of how they increase her safety and safety of her child. How will the two of you prioritize these goals?
  - Explain the specific risks Bobby poses to Fran and her son.
  - Illustrate any additional risks that may be associated with Fran's life situation.

- II. Identify past safety plans (20 points):
  - Describe the strategies that Fran has used to cope with the violence.
  - Evaluate how well these strategies worked for her.
  - Describe the outcome of these strategies, including Bobby's reactions. How was safety enhanced or diminished?

- III. Identify current safety plans (protective, staying and leaving strategies) (20 points):
  - Develop a time frame for Fran's strategies.
  - List the personal and public resources that are available to Fran.
  - Anticipate Bobby's potential reaction to these strategies.

- IV. Developing and implementing current safety plan (20 points):
Use the table below to:
  - Evaluate the various safety planning options for Fran.
  - List potential consequences of pursuing or not pursuing each particular option (both positive and negative consequences).
  - Describe the internal and external resources needed to implement each option.

Safety Plan Option	Potential Consequences	Resources Needed
2.
3.

V. Summarizing the safety planning process experience (20 points):

- Describe the personal feelings and professional reactions that you experienced in completing the safety planning assignment.
- Describe how you would imagine Fran to be feeling throughout this process.
- Describe any specific dilemmas that were highlighted for you during this process.
- Did you 'disagree' with any of Fran's decisions? Why or why not?

Evaluation criteria include your ability to integrate and synthesize information, formulate a thoughtful position for discussion, develop a convincing, coherent, and well-supportive argument/points, and scholarly writing.

This assignment should be typed, doubled spaces, and APA style. Follow the outline above and use page numbers and titles as well as opening (introduction) and closing paragraphs (summary). This outline may be modified after our in-class discussions. Grammar, spelling, and sentence structure, and organization are important and will be critiqued.

See Criteria above for evaluating this assignment. This assignment is worth 20 points.

Assignment # 2 Reaction Paper to Court Visit

Each student is expected to write a reaction paper related visiting the domestic violence court. The paper should be approximately 3 pages in length and should address the following:

1. What were the three most compelling points for you and why?
2. What were the three most surprising issues for you and why?
3. What three suggestions do you have for improving services to battered women and their children?
4. What role(s) should/do social workers fulfill in this system?

Students are expected to attend a half-day session at the domestic violence court in Travis County or another county. Your reaction paper will be based on this experience. Students should integrate the information from the readings, class discussions, and lectures into your paper. I suggest you highlight the salient points of videos, speakers, etc. and connect those examples to the information you observed in court. Also, be sure to include your professional and personal reactions. Lynn at the Travis County Court Administration can tell you what days cases involving domestic violence will be heard in criminal court. Her number is 854-4303. Joan Carter is the legal advocate with SafePlace and present in the Travis County DV court. Protective Orders are usually heard on Friday mornings. Her number is 854-4251

Evaluation criteria includes your ability to integrate and synthesize information, formulate a thoughtful position for discussion, develop a convincing, coherent, and well-supportive argument/points, and scholarly writing.

This assignment should be typed, doubled spaces, and APA style. Follow the outline above and use page numbers and titles as well as opening (introduction) and closing paragraphs (summary). This outline may be modified after our in-class discussions. Grammar, spelling, and sentence structure, and organization are important and will be critiqued.

See Criteria above for evaluating this assignment. This assignment is worth 20 points.

Assignment # 3 Assigned Readings and Presentation

Each student will be responsible for summarizing a topic of the "Special Topics" assigned readings. Articles are on reserved at the LRC.

Summarize each article/chapter in about a paragraph. This summary should include a list of 15 - 20 of the most salient points of the reading. These points may be written in bullet form, but should be complete sentences. If you are presenting several chapters from one source then you can offer a general summary about the topic.

Your handout should be a maximum of 2 pages. Your handout should include full citations of all the articles/chapters at the beginning of each summary.

You should bring enough copies to distribute to the class (25 copies). I am glad to make copies for you and bring them to class for you. In this case, email or give me your summary handout on the Thursday morning prior to your presentation.

Students will also be responsible for leading the class discussion for the day the chapter/article is assigned. To lead the discussion, students should give a brief summary of the discussion points. Please do not simply read your handout to the class. Rather, talk about the topics under discussion. To facilitate the discussion, start by offering several questions on the topic(s) and information that the literature has suggested. You might also highlight questions that have not been examined. All students are expected to be engaged in the in-class discussions. Presentations will be approximately 30 - 45 minutes per topic. Topics will be randomly chosen.

Students will be evaluated by the instructors and by her/his peers. See Criteria for Criteria for Evaluating Chapter Summary and Presentations in sections X and XI, respectively. This assignment is worth 20 points of the overall grade. Peer evaluations will be averaged and account for 5 total points. The instructor's evaluation will account for 15 points.

Assignment #4 Small Group Project with SafePlace

Students will be required to work collaboratively on an issue that is locally relevant to SafePlace, the agency serving survivors of domestic and sexual assault. Details of this project will be addressed in class including tasks, responsibilities, and grading criteria.

This assignment is worth 40 points. Students may receive the same or different points on this assignment. Topics are to be determined. In order to give students adequate time to complete this assignment it will be due to the instructor by July 28, 2004 at 4 pm. Hard copies should be left at student services. Please also send an email with the attachment.

If a paper is assigned, the paper should be organized in a logical sequence and subheadings should clearly delineate sub-topics. For all written work be sure to use introductory sentences with each paragraph and introductory and closing paragraphs in your paper. The underlined phrases above should be identified as your paper's subheadings. Grammar, spelling, organization, critical thinking, etc. all count. For more grading information see the Criteria for Grading Written Work later in this syllabus.

1. Introduction to the issue/Nature and scope of the issue. Define the issue(s); number of people affected or institutions affected; economic and social consequences of the issue. How widespread

- is the problem? What are the historical antecedents of the problem/issue? Who specifically is affected and how? What are the known or suspected causes of the issues/problem? Are other localities, communities, states, countries facing a similar issue? What are they doing about it? (5 – 8 pages)
2. Literature Review. What does the academic, media, and the advocacy community tell us about the issue? Is there empirical research on the topic? Is there antidotal information? (5 – 8 pages)
  3. Stakeholders. Who are the major stakeholders involved in this issue—how are they involved? What do they say should happen to address the issue? Identify proponents and opponents, if appropriate. (2 –4 pages)
  4. Conclusions and Recommendations. What are your recommendations regarding the issue? How would you suggest the community address the issue? How would you improve understanding, services, etc.? (2 – 4 pages)

This assignment might involve the collect information through literature review, Internet searches, agency visits, in-person or telephone interviews, etc. where appropriate. Because of the cutting edge nature of this assignment, you might gather information from organizational information, experts, and the media.

Simulation Exercise

This teaching technique is designed to sensitize and train social work and human service practitioners for their future work with battered women. The unit has five sub-components; a simulation exercise, individual reflection period, a large group debriefing period, a lecture on empowerment practice, and a small group problem solving exercise. The simulation exercise puts the student in the role of a battered woman that involves daily struggles and challenges a battered woman may encounter. The individual and group debriefing periods serve as processing sessions about the simulation experience. The lecture component seeks to clarify the misconceptions and myths about battered women and domestic violence, investigates the affects of trauma on women, presents models for understanding battering, and address appropriate social work interventions. The focus of the lecture is empowerment practice theory and techniques. The small group exercise provides the students with a problem solve opportunity to intervene on the behalf of battered women at a individual and group, community, and theory building levels.

Students are expected to participate in the simulation exercise. However, students may choose to, for a period of time, suspend their “play.” Detailed information will be provided prior to the simulation exercise and on the day it is scheduled.

Extra Assignment

Students who miss one or more class meetings will be required to complete an extra assignment. The student must write a 15 - 20 page paper related to domestic violence, battered women, children in abusive homes or perpetrators, etc. The scholarly paper must be APA style, type written, and turned in the last day of class. You should use references from scholarly journals, books, and periodicals other than our required course materials. The instructor must approve your topic in advance.

There are many other special topic areas that are of concern in studying about domestic violence (Native American women, men as victims, domestic violence in the military, etc.). However, given our time constraints, it is not possible to study topic area in-depth. However, it is likely that we will cover many of these topics during class discussions, during video presentations, with guest speakers, etc. I encourage students to seek out readings and resources specific to special topic areas of their interest.

Criteria for Evaluation of Written Work

1. Completeness and thoroughness
How fully has the issue been addressed? When appropriate, has the issue been sufficiently researched using library resources, interview, and other means in order to gain differing perspectives and full knowledge of the issue? Has the theoretical and empirical literature on the subject been incorporated in the paper? Does the paper leave the reader with the impression that major questions have been considered, or are important issues left unaddressed? Has the paper been carefully proofread?
2. Organization and clarity
Is the paper well written and organized in a logical manner? Are there appropriate transitions between sentences, paragraphs, and sections? Are the sentence structure, syntax, and grammar of appropriate quality? Have headings and subheading been used to improve organization? Has the student addressed issues in a way that can be understood by someone unfamiliar with the issues as well as by someone knowledgeable about the issues?
3. Referencing
Are there a sufficient number of appropriate references? Has referencing been done appropriately and according to the style of the American Psychological Association? Are the references well integrated in the text? Were the references obtained from various sources (scholarly, Internet, interviews, etc.)? Are short direct quotations noted in quotation marks; are longer direct quotations indented, and are page numbers indicated for all direct quotations? Are indirect quotes paraphrased sufficiently? Were interviews of those who are involved with the creation or setting of policy and those impacted by the policy included in the analytical discuss of the policy?
4. Originality and Creativity
Have different viewpoints been compared and contrasted in a way that shows that the writer has a thorough understanding of the issues? Has the writer used his or her analytical skills in a way that suggests more than a restatement of what other have said about this issue? Has the student suggested points that have not been addressed by others?
