SOCIAL WORK PRACTICE IN ORGANIZATIONS AND COMMUNITIES (BSW)

I. Course Description

This course in the practice sequence integrates social work theory, practice methods, and professional skills as they relate to assessment and intervention at the organizational and community levels. The course considers models for understanding human service organizations and administrative practice in organizations and for understanding communities, issues of social stratification, conflict and integration in communities, assessment of community needs, and identification of community resources. Strategies for initiating change in organizations and communities are identified, including different points of intervention, sources of resistance to change, and methods for overcoming such resistance. Throughout the course, special attention is given to factors affecting diverse population groups, including, but not limited to, groups distinguished by race, ethnicity, culture, class, gender, sexual orientation, religion, physical or mental ability, age, and national origin. Prerequisites include admission to the social work major and previous or current enrollment in PSY304, SW310, SW312, SW313, SW325, and SW327.

II. Course Objectives

By the end of the course, the student will be able to:

1. Explain the role of the generalist social worker as an interactive influence in organizational dynamics and the service delivery process;
2. Explain and apply the systems/ecological frameworks to organizations and communities;
3. Explain and illustrate how organizational dynamics can influence service delivery;
4. Identify and assess barriers, strategies, tactics and skills involved in achieving organizational change to improve service delivery;
5. Demonstrate the basic knowledge and skills needed for the assessment of social problems at the community level and the mobilization of community interest, opinion, and support to address those problems;
6. Describe how community work can be used as an intervention strategy for meeting client needs, creating new service delivery systems, and promoting social and economic justice;
7. Identify factors affecting people with diverse backgrounds, including, but not limited to, groups distinguished by race, ethnicity, culture, class, gender, sexual orientation, religion, physical or mental ability, age, and national origin; both as service users and as organizational staff members;

8. Demonstrate an understanding of how research is used to acquire knowledge and to evaluate self in practice with organizations and communities;
9. Demonstrate an understanding of social work values, particularly the pursuit of social and economic justice, and their implications for social work practice with organizations and communities.

III. Teaching Methods

This class is conducted using a seminar format. The primary teaching approach will be collaborative learning. Collaborative learning involves small group discussions in which students have the opportunity to apply concepts from the readings. Students should come prepared to discuss the assigned readings, which will serve as a basis of discussion. Class attendance and participation is required. Any videos shown in class will generally not be available for individual student viewing (with a few exceptions if owned by the library).

IV. Required Readings

Hardcastle, D.G., and Powers, P.R. 2004 (2nd Edition). Community Practice: Theories and Skills for Social Workers. New York: Oxford University Press.

* Supplemental Optional Readings (see Bibliography): Available on Blackboard

Community Needs Assessment Group Project

Detailed instructions available on Black Board. Part of the class will be dedicated to learning the process of conducting needs assessments, including hands-on applications.

VI. Class Expectations

1. Grades. The grading criteria used in this class are as follows. Each assignment:

EXCELLENT (A): Significantly exceeds expectations (more than is required) & demonstrates in-depth critical thinking/analysis (e.g., coherent integration of ideas).

GOOD (B): Meets all the requirements & demonstrates in-depth critical thinking/analysis.

AVERAGE (C): Meets the requirements or has minor gaps but fails to demonstrate in-depth critical thinking /analysis.

BELOW AVERAGE (\leq D): Has important gaps: does not meet the requirements or fails to demonstrate in-depth critical thinking/analysis. (Class failed/no credit if below 70.)

2. Attend class regularly and turn in assignments on the due dates. Class attendance is required. Student presentations can only be given on the allotted dates. Major written assignments will be penalized 5 points for each calendar day late.
3. Electronic communication. Blackboard (including email postings) will be used for course management. Blackboard is available at <http://courses.utexas.edu>. Changes to the syllabus will be posted on Blackboard and/or announced in class. Blackboard support is provided by the ITS Help Desk at 475-9400 on week days. It is the student's responsibility to keep the University informed as to changes in his or her e-mail address.
4. Follow the rules of scholastic honesty. Assignments which show evidence that they have not been completed directly by the student will not be accepted and may result in automatic failure for the course. Scholastic dishonesty, including plagiarism, will result in recommendation for dismissal from the University according to University guidelines.
5. Request and offer feedback. I will work with you throughout the semester and provide you with feedback for revisions on assignments. Student feedback about the course is welcome, as the course will be viewed as a joint effort between students and the instructor.
6. Participate in class discussions and other in-class activities. Share your perspectives. Based on the social work value of self-determination, we will ultimately strive to learn about and respect the perspectives of populations directly affected by issues at question as they experience them and define them.
7. Present written and oral presentations professionally. Written assignments should be proofread to avoid grammatical, spelling, or punctuation errors. Paginate all your papers.
8. Use APA Style for referencing. The Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association is the style manual to be used by the School of Social Work.
9. Agency and community safety. As part of professional social work education, students may have assignments that involve working in agency settings and/or the community. As such, these assignments may present some risks. Sound choices and caution may lower risks inherent to the profession. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and adhere to policies and practices related to agency and/or community safety. Students should also notify instructors regarding any safety concerns.

10. Services for students with disabilities. The University of Texas at Austin provides, upon request, appropriate academic accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. for more information, contact the Office of the Dean of Students at 471-6259 or 471-4641 TTY.
