

What Can I Do With A Major In... Computer Science or Mathematics?

The following is a list of common job titles requiring skills in computer science or mathematics.

Contents:

Computer Science

Mathematics

For more information on these careers, use the Career Exploration Center library. Check the University of Texas Department of Computer Sciences and the Department of Mathematics for more information about these majors.

Computer Science

Computer Programmer

Systems Analyst

Software Talent Agent

Computer Attorney

Computer Salesperson

Marketing Representative

Technical Support Rep. (Systems Engineer)

Documentation Specialist

ATM Specialist (Banking Industry)

Computer Security Specialist

Database Administrator

Data Communications Analyst

Technical Librarian

Software Engineer

Hardware Engineer

Field Service Representative

Marketing Representative

Computer Education Specialist

Turnkey Contractor

Professor

Teacher

Patent Attorney

Computer-Aided Designer

Desktop Publisher

Mathematics

Accountant

Auditor

Tax Investigator

Loan Officer

Operations Manager

Systems Consultant

Trust Officer

Credit Analyst

Technical Salesperson

Insurance Salesperson

Actuary

Underwriter

Market Researcher

Financial Analyst

Real Estate Broker

Appraiser

Securities Broker

Securities Analyst

Professor

Teacher

Textbook Editor

Developer of Educational Tools

Researcher

Copyright ©1998, University of Texas.